Product Description

24355-2B000 24355 2B000 VVT Oil Control Valve for 2011-2014 Hyundai Santa Fe Tucson Optima

Product Description:

The Oil Control Valve (OCV) is an integral part of any vehicle's engine. It is responsible for controlling the amount of oil that is fed to its components. This process is usually regulated by the engine management system. The OCV is vital in ensuring the oil pressure and timing are optimal for the engine. In essence, it has a large part to play in the performance and efficacy of the vehicle engine.

Features:

Oil Flow Regulation

Our oil control valve is designed with accuracy and precision in mind. It is capable of controlling the oil flow to the engine's components with great accuracy, leading to the best lubrication and performance possible.

Oil Pressure Regulation

Our OCV helps maintain the necessary oil pressure for engines with variable oil pressure systems. It can precisely adjust the oil flow to keep an ideal and consistent oil pressure that helps lubricate, cool and protect the engine components from wear and tear.

Durable Construction

Our OCV is built with strength and durability in mind. It is completed with a robust housing and high-quality internal components to provide impeccable anti-corrosion protection and long-lasting performance.

Compatibility and Easy Installation

This OCV is designed to be a direct fit replacement of your vehicle's original equipment, and perfectly matches its specifications and mounting points. It ensures easy and straightforward installation process.
